

The Buyer's Guide to Using Artmakers

From our landing page you will be taken to the main gallery.

At the very top of the gallery page is a series of drop-down menus. If you select one e.g. 'Painting' you will then see be taken to a new gallery page, which has another series of drop-down menus called 'Filters'. These allow you to select a number of options for the type of painting etc you wish to view.

Beneath the banner images you will also find a series of images e.g. paintings, prints etc if you click on these you will be taken a new gallery page where all the artworks in this category will be displayed. Above these works will also appear a set of filters

Each filter has its own drop-down menu to help you restrict the search.

If you do not enter anything you will be shown all the current works listed in this category.

Once you have chosen your filters or left them at 'all' please click on 'Submit'.

This will take you to a page of images based on your selection.

NOTE: The filters will remain visible - should you wish to re-select what you wish to see.

Description
Eager to combine the beauty of the nature, movement of the blue ocean waters, and a powerful environmental message all at the same time, this unique yet realistic scenery was created out of several images. Using acrylic and oil paints, followed by a digital retouch, prints of this artwork helped raise funds for not one, but two local charities here in Devon: 2 Minutes Beach Clean based in Croyde, and National Marine Aquarium in Plymouth. Giclee print on Photospeed Xpressions, 300gsm slightly textured, matt finish, paper. Hand signed by the artist, this work comes with a Certificate of Authenticity, too.
